Welcome to another great season in the arts at North Central College! If you are a returning patron, you know we always try to find a blend between the favorites you wish to see and new artists. We feel we have hit a homerun for this new season at Naperville and DuPage County’s premiere performing arts venues.

Following on the success of the movie “Bohemian Rhapsody,” we open the season with “Mercury: A Story Celebrating Freddie Mercury’s Life and Music.” There are few artists in the industry who can come close to the vocal pyrotechnics that Freddie Mercury was known for. Terry Barber is in that elite fraternity. You will hear that amazing music of Queen performed live on the Pfeiffer Hall Stage. It promises to be the perfect beginning to another amazing season.

The first artist to sell out the Wentz Concert Hall will be returning once again with his wife. Herb Alpert and Lani Hall will again perform for the great audiences that grace our venues. It will be amazing to have them back.

Now we have two firsts in a row. Stars of “Whose Line Is It Anyway?” Colin Mochrie and Brad Sherwood, will bring an evening promising non-stop laughs in the Wentz Concert Hall. One of the great joys of working in the arts is that we get to bring in artists that we really want to see. Colin and Brad fall into that category. Sure, we always try to find the best of the best, but occasionally there is an act that is a personal favorite. I’ll be in the audience for this one!

For our next first, we knew we had a hit on our hands when we started getting calls in the box office before we announced this artist to anyone. The Texas Tenors will bring their Christmas show to Pfeiffer Hall on Sunday, December 8. This was a personal favor from The Texas Tenors to perform here since they need to fly in just for our audiences. It will be interesting to see which concert sells out first, The Texas Tenors or Colin Mochrie and Brad Sherwood.

Keeping with our tradition, we will also have two other performances as part of our Home for the Holidays special in December, sponsored in part by the Special Events and Cultural Amenities Fund of Naperville. The Canadian Brass, another perennial favorite, will bring their unique spin on holiday music to the Wentz Concert Hall while Robin Spielberg will present Robin Spielberg’s “Spirit of the Holidays Sing-A-Long” featuring the choir from Lincoln Junior High under the direction of North Central alumnus Ross Berkley ’05. Welcome home, Ross.

The second half of the season promises to be equally amazing with the Chicago Sinfonietta Annual Tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Jim Peterik’s World Stage, the Russian National Ballet’s production of “Cinderella,” and The Greatest Love of All: A Tribute to Whitney Houston starring Belinda Davids—and THAT only takes us to the end of February!

From there we have the return of The Subdudes, The Four C Notes, Marianne Murphy Orland, Velvet Caravan and Beckie Menzie & Tom Michael “re-Imagine the Beatles”. Stay tuned for more announcements to come!

Thank you for supporting the arts in our community. You are the people we are doing all of this for! We hope you come to as many shows as you can. And now, on with the show!

Donna Castellanos
“INSIDE OUT, OUTSIDE IN”
September 20 - November 10
Explore a new thematic installation by Donna Castellanos that brings the inside out, and the outside in. For each piece in this exhibition, everyday objects have evolved into new assemblages. Look closely and you’ll find denim jeans, antique books, old computer equipment, soccer balls and more, all transformed into a new light. Step inside and consider how these familiar objects have been turned inside out and outside in.

Zelene Schlosberg
“PRECIPICE”
November 15 - January 12
On the verge, between and betwixt: the quality of potential energy animates the works in this exhibition. Zelene Schlosberg works in a variety of genres, with a pared down yet provocative aesthetic that draws on a wide variety of influences from East and West, ancient and contemporary.

Shane Prine
“AN UNLIVED HISTORY”
January 17 - March 15
As an artist, Shane Prine’s goal is to capture an elegiac quality in subjects both animate and inanimate. A phrase that encapsulates Prine’s most recent work is “an unlived history.” A central theme of Prine’s work is memory—what informs memory, how does it change over time, why is it that memories are often romanticized—or how is it that nostalgia or trauma often color memory accordingly. Other related ideas contained here involve questions of identity and belief.

Art and Design Faculty
March 20 - May 24
The exhibit features works from the North Central College Art Department Faculty. The exhibitor names will be announced at a later date.

Larry Ballard
“BALLARD CREATIONS”
May 29 - July 19
Larry Ballard’s lifelong obsession for creating art comes from the challenge of using a lot of found objects. Some of his pieces are made with wood from old barns that are being torn down. Others are made using old wooden ladders that he incorporates into his constructions. His art can be found in museums and private collections in the United States and Europe. He was commissioned to create a Crucifix for a chapel in the Vatican. Before it was sent to Rome, it was on display at Benedictine University. His life size figure of Saint Benedict is at Benedictine University in the entrance to the library. One of his wall hangings is in the Children’s Museum in Naperville.

Eric T. Kunsman
“THOU ART ... , WILL GIVE ... “
July 24 - September 20
In “Thou Art ... , Will Give ... “, Eric Kunsman hopes to offer some of the atmosphere experienced by prisoners when the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia was active. This exhibition attempts to capture some of the story, energy, and sorrows of this remarkable space. Actual photographs of entries from the Warden’s 1800s logbooks have been blended with Kunsman’s photographs of the penitentiary, to give a historical sense of both the prisoners and their treatment at the penitentiary. Photographs with text overlaid are offered to allow the viewer just a hint about the presence of individual prisoners. Kunsman hopes that through these images and text, visitors can share some of the sense of loneliness, hopelessness and desperate search for redemption that drove so many of those spirits still trapped within the walls of Eastern State.

Donna Castellanos
“INSIDE OUT, OUTSIDE IN”
September 20 - October 31
Enter into the campus library, now transformed into "The Study". This all encompassing environment by artist Donna Castellanos is created entirely from cast-off books, dictionaries and encyclopedias. Most of the books used in this installation have been pulled from dumpsters, donated by friends, or discovered at estate sales. Castellanos has found inspiration in the gilded and embossed covers, the wonderful detailed illustrations, even the musty smell of the old books. Wrap yourself up in a book while surrounded by these cherished printed pages of the past.

“THE SUM OF THE PARTS”
January 5 - March 4

The Sum of the Parts explores how the use of repetition, seriality and multiplicity in creating works of art. All of the work is created using encaustic as the primary medium; however, FUSED artists expand upon the ancient technique of working with beeswax and pigment; taking many directions in extending the possibilities to create work in a contemporary context. The work in this show uses a myriad of combinations with other materials: embedding charcoal, ink, image transfers, burnt shellac; incorporation of paper, found objects or organic materials the surface; mono-printing on paper and fabric; applying smooth and textured wax to photographs; and surfacing sculptural forms with wax to develop multiple works based on a single concept.
